Missoula County Property Information System

Newly updated Property Information System receives ESRI's

Special Achievement in GIS Award

GCS Research created the new Property Information System to assist users in locating land parcels within Missoula County, Montana. Missoula County is the second most populated county in Montana with over 100,000 people but is only the twenty-fourth largest in size encompassing approximately 2,600 square miles.

GCS developed an original implementation of this site based on ArcIMS technology. When Missoula County wanted to upgrade to ArcGIS Server's capabilities, once again they called on GCS to create this next-generation site. Our team successfully ported their existing data and desired functions to the latest technology and ensured the transition was smooth for the County and the end-users alike.

Featured Technologies

- Adobe Flex
- ESRI ArcGIS Server Adobe Flex API
- ESRI ArcGIS Server REST Map Services
- Microsoft .NET Web Services
- Microsoft SQL Server
- Google Street View

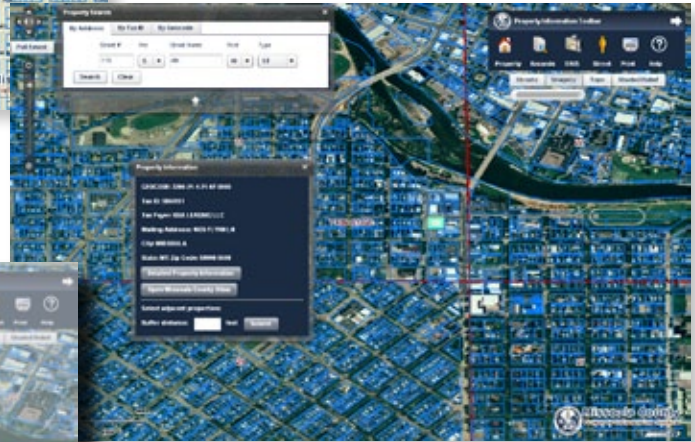

One way to view multiple properties is by using the buffer tool.

Users may search the Property Information System in a variety of different ways because the parcels are dynamically linked to related survey, tax, and State CAMA (Computer Assisted Mass Appraisal). They may enter a tax identification number, geocode, or physical street address to view the county records for a property. Other query options include Records search, Township/Range/Section, and Latitude/Longitude. Tools such as Google Street View, map printing and the Help icon make the interface truly user friendly.

Four map views are available: Streets, Imagery, Topography, and Shaded Relief.

A buffer tool is available to search by distance from a specific property.

Detailed property information is available without having to leave the map.
